This site is for the use of CFP and investors or prospective investors in the Funds only. The value of the Funds based on the investments they hold and the income derived from them can go down as well as up and you may not recover the amount of your original investment in a Fund. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Where a Fund's investment approach involves exposure to a foreign currency, changes in rates of exchange may cause the value of the Fund and the income from it to go up or down. In the case of some investments held by one or more of the Funds, you should be aware that there is no recognised market for them and that it may therefore be difficult for the Investment Adviser to the Fund(s) to deal in them or for them to obtain reliable information about their value or the extent of the risks to which they are exposed. Certain investments held by one or more of the Funds carry a higher degree of risk than others and are, therefore, unsuitable for some investors. It may be possible to lose all of the initial capital in certain types of investments to which a Fund may be exposed. Before contemplating any purchase of a Fund, you should consider whether you require financial advice.
